

INCE Members, Associates and Friends:

At the recent meeting of the Board of Directors, exciting and well-deserved changes were made to two of the Institute's most significant awards. The INCE Foundation proposed to rename the Distinguished Noise Control Engineer and Excellence in Noise Control Engineering Awards to honor William W. Lang and George C. Maling, to recognize their remarkable contributions and efforts as founders, officers and volunteers of the Institute. Board of Directors unanimously agreed with the proposed changes, which result in the following new names for these awards:

William W. Lang

George C. Maling

The William W. Lang Award for the Distinguished Noise Control Engineer and

The George C. Maling Award for Excellence in Noise Control Engineering

We are excited that these new names will forever honor Bill and George's contributions to the Institute. At the 2018 Awards Ceremony, we will have a special presentation to recognize their contributions and this change. Please look forward to joining us for the Ceremony in August.

Nominations for these awards, along with the INCE-USA/NCAC Laymon N. Miller Award for Excellence in Acoustical Consulting, and the Martin Hirschorn IAC Prize - Best Paper Award for recognizing accomplishments in the industry.

For students, we are also accepting nominations for the Hallberg Foundation Award and Michiko So Finegold Award that support travel to the conferences.

These awards will be presented at the upcoming INTERNOISE 2018 meeting in Chicago, IL, in August 2018. A brief summary for each of the awards, including submission/nomination deadlines, is available at the conference website: www.internoise2018.com.
